Cutting Your Car Use —“a powerful, cost-effective tool”—is used widely with great success as part of a travel plan pack for businesses, schools and council employees. Give them the encouragement they need to tackle car dependency and change their travel habits.

Popular Uses

- Schools and businesses—as part of their travel plan induction packs.
- Council planning departments—giving copies to businesses, developers and architects required to produce and implement travel plans, as part of planning obligations attached to new sites or site expansion.
- Councils—giving copies to your employees as part of your council travel plan induction pack, as an incentive to encourage greener transport.

This dual-language, back-to-back edition is printed to order (delivery approx. three weeks). An English-only edition is also available from stock - please phone for prices.
